

In this Conversations With Healers episode, my guest is Cherie Burton, Mother of 6, Author, International Speaker, Podcast Host, International Business Owner, Emotional Restoration Expert, and new feminine leadership paradigm Teacher through her Stand, Speak, Shine programs and retreats.

This was such a delicious and juicy conversation! Cherie is an amazing soul who embodies a lot of wisdom and light. I am excited for you to dive into this episode!

We talked about:

- Cherie's story of reclaiming all of herself including her feminine embodiment and intuition, and redefining her own spirituality,
- What it means to embody the Divine Feminine,
- How the essential oils can support our healing journey,
- How everyone's awakening and initiatory cycles can look and feel different,
- How to move through the birth canal of different cycles of our lives with grace,
- And so much more.

You can find out more about Cherie and her work at her website

<https://www.cherieburton.com/> and her Instagram

<https://www.instagram.com/cherie.burton/> . Cherie is generously offering all listeners a free 15 minute Essential Oil reading. I was able to experience this first-hand and highly recommend it! Please contact her mentioning this podcast at
