CONVERSATIONS WITH HEALERS

adropofom.com

In this Conversations With Healers episode, my guest is Ginny Jablonski, Intuitive Healer, Animal Communicator, Horse Medicine Facilitator, Inspirational Speaker, Author, and Opioid Crisis Advocate. During our conversation, Ginny has openly and honestly shared her fascinating journey of self-healing and becoming a healer. We talked about:

- Ginny's story of debilitating illness which led to a near-death experience (NDE),
- Her discovery of new healing abilities after her NDE and her search for understanding what was happening to her, which led to being trained in multiple healing methods and systems,
- How animal communication and healing came into the picture for her,
- How she found the need to let go of being confined by what she had learned so she could open up to what was here and now for her and her clients,
- How it feels to work with people with multiple energetic wounds and how a healer can make a difference in their healing,
- What she feels we can do to help heal our animals,
- Our cat Marmalade's surprise entry in the middle of our talk, demanding our attention and a spontaneous reading from Ginny (Marmalade normally never does this!).

- And more.

My favorite healing nugget from Ginny is “I set the intention for my life and my healing journey by embodying the true desire for all beings to be healed, for all people to forgive one another, for the Earth to be brought into balance, for humans to be brought into balance not only with one another but with the planet.”

You can find out more about Ginny and her work at her website where she is sharing a lot of resources on healing animals and humans, holistic animal care, and near-death experiences. Ginny talked about this book and how it helped her set her intention to become a healer.

If this conversation touched you in any way, inspired you, or spoke to you, please share it. You can share it in a conversation, post about it on Facebook or Instagram, or email or text it to your friends and family. We truly appreciate your support in spreading the love and light that we hope to create with these conversations.
