

This month, I went to the land of Khemet (The Black Land, Egypt). It was a dream fulfilled. It was a true odyssey with lots of ups and downs, initiations and re-births, and deep soul healing and re-membling.

In the next few days I will tell you about my experience, and share an offer with you that will let you experience what I experienced: being held in the loving arms of the Divine Mother.

My soul pilgrimage was a 15-day jam-packed tour between December 1 and 15, along with 18 other soul family members, 13 sisters, 2 brothers, and 3 exceptional guides. Our tour guide was a fiery Egyptian woman, who took great care of us. Her boss the owner of the tour, another fiery Egyptian woman, who kept track of all of us and our scheduled time like a Horus. And our spiritual guide, teacher, and the organizer of the tour was an intuitive Goddess, Tarot Master, Astrologer, and Soul Reader Sheilaa Hite.

All of the participants along with me were healers, empaths, intuitive readers, astrology-enthusiasts, and deeply spiritual beings. We found a home in each other almost instantly and often joked that muggles (people who don't believe in magic in Harry Potter's world) weren't a part of this magical group!

As all odysseys, my journey started much before the actual journey started. Sheilaa visited Egypt in December 2021 and did a presentation of her time there over Zoom. At the time she didn't yet announce a tour to Egypt. She was simply sharing her experience. I attended that presentation, loving the pictures and her stories. That night in my dream I saw myself visiting one of the shops she visited where she bought a custom-made coat. I saw myself getting a brand new custom-made coat. When I woke up I knew that Egypt was calling me.

Then came more dreams, one of them was significant. I saw myself standing by the pyramids and looking at the millions of stars. I saw myself showing the stars to the people who passed by and saying 'Look! Look, how amazing they are!' The moment I woke up I knew that it was about my life's calling to remind people of the infinite potentials of their inner children.

Both of these dreams came true this month, and so much more. I got my coat. I stood by the pyramids at night. More importantly, I found a deep connection to myself and the Divine in all of us.

I had a single intention going to Khemet: to connect with the Goddess and the Divine Mother and feel her unconditional love.

I have felt her in so many shapes and forms during my odyssey. Here's what I realized: love that lives here on this planet is magical, and each and every one of us are not only a part of that magic but essential to it. We deserve to feel Mother Gaia's love deeply. This healing love is what I want to channel and share with you for the rest of my life.

Tomorrow I will share my story of meeting Sekhmet, the fierce, protective, and deeply compassionate mother.

I will also share an offering where you can feel this love in your bones, molecules, and in every particle and wave of your being.

With love and deep gratitude,

Damla

P. S. If you are new to my writing and healing work (or not), I welcome you here with open arms. My hope and intention for you is to receive the vibrational essence of my posts, each of them is a love letter channeled through me to you. Read with your whole body, let the soul message touch your heart, and allow the images, words, and stories to deeply nourish you.

Read Part 2, Part 3, and Part 4 here.

Here's more about me and my healing and becoming a Healer journey.

Here are some powerful free resources for your healing journey.

Here are some travel essentials for any soul pilgrimage.

Join me on Instagram, Facebook, YouTube and TikTok for inner child energetic wound healing inspiration.